

My family loves KLOVE. We listen to it throughout the day. It's inspring, uplifting and has helped my family through some rough times

To have KLOVE be displaced by a LPFM broadcaster would be a travesty. Where can you find good, family-friendly, christ-centered programming these days?

Our society needs KLOVE on the air. Something positive for a change.

There are so many stations that promote the worst of society through sexual connotations, violence and infidelity. Is this what we want more of? I don't.

Sincerely,

M. Scott Mitchell
